And so I made a Villanelle.

I took her dainty eyes as well
As silken tendrils of her hair,
And so I made a Villanelle.

I took her voice a silver bell,
As clear as song, as soft as pray'r,
I took her dainty eyes as well.

May be, said I, who can tell,
These things shall be my less despair,
And so I made a Villanelle.

I took her whiteness virginal,
And from her cheek two roses rare,
I took her dainty eyes as well.

I said it may be possible
Her image from my heart to tear,
And so I made a Villanelle.

I stole her laugh most musical,
I wrought it in with artful care,
I took her dainty eyes as well,
And so I made a Villanelle.
